

Newicon: Seeking Full Stack Web Developer (June 2018)

About Us

At Newicon, we are a highly innovative and talented team of designers and full stack developers who thrive in a challenging and rewarding environment, working on exciting projects for ambitious companies and entrepreneurs. We are an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Why Newicon

Located in the centre of Bristol by the water, getting to and from work is easy—we're minutes from the train station and close to the main cycle paths. Social evenings are many, and there are more places to eat nearby than you can shake a chopstick at.

We believe in giving developers the responsibility they need to do an excellent job. You will work within the team but also lead your own projects and your input to any problem is welcome.

With far too many years of experience in the team than we'd dare to count, we're able to provide guidance, insight and help. This enables you to grow in your skills and ability and it's something we actively encourage.

With flexitime, 25 days' holiday plus bank holidays, cycle scheme, nearby gym, contribution matching pension scheme, and more tea and coffee than you can drink, you can create a working day to suit you.

What You'll Do

You will create bespoke, innovative solutions to a wide variety of web-application based problems for a diverse set of clients.

Working in an agile manner, you will deliver projects to the agreed budget, timescale, scope and required quality.

Starting at the whiteboard, you will participate in, or lead, collaborative project design—ensuring that all work is built on a solid foundation before implementing a solution.

You will implement solutions that are clean, easy to understand, well documented and thoroughly tested.

Proactively identifying challenges, you will research and create appropriate solutions before these become issues.

You will work with minimum supervision, prioritising and planning your work, and knowing when to ask for help.

About You

First and foremost you are a highly capable problem solver with excellent communication skills. You love challenges and the harder the problem the more you thrive.

You also love writing code. The web excites you, and you're probably an active member of the development community. You have a proven portfolio of successfully-delivered projects.

You are comfortable with, and adapt to, changing requirements and circumstances and are always happy dealing directly with clients.

You have a great attitude and work ethic, respect your fellow team members, have excellent communication skills, are a continuous learner and have a life away from the computer. You do not shirk from hard work.

You have knowledge and experience in some or all of the following (and you're happy to learn about those you're unfamiliar with):

- Git / Mercurial or equivalent
- Object oriented / functional / procedural programming paradigms
- JavaScript / TypeScript / ES6
- JS frameworks such as JQuery, React and VueJs
- Node.js, Electron, Cordova
- HTML5 / CSS3
- PHP 5 / 7
- MVC Frameworks (Yii, Laravel, Symfony, others)
- MySQL / MariaDB
- TDD and BDD
- Linux, shell scripting and command line
- Server Management / Dev Ops

If this sounds like you, then Newicon is the place to be.
